

A Message from Jim Culhane, President & CEO at Lake Sunapee Region VNA & Hospice

COVID-19 has driven us into uncharted territory, and even though we are focusing our energies on addressing challenges we have never seen before, I continue to be reassured by the hard work, dedication and creativity of our staff as we move forward. As a home care agency, we are public health servants and recognize our responsibility to not just individual patients, but to the entire community we serve. As we do everything we can to keep our patients and staff safe, we implore everyone to do their part by following “stay at home” emergency orders and CDC guidelines for minimizing risk. We continue to provide our home health, hospice, palliative and private care services throughout the 32 towns we serve and can only do so if our staff remains healthy. We also stand ready to shift resources and implement contingency plans in the event that area hospitals get busier and need to rely more heavily on our services to care for people in their homes.
